

Faculty of Health: Bachelor of Nursing Programmes

Same	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nursing Council of New Zealand approved. • NZQA approved. • Graduates gain a Bachelor of Nursing Degree at the end of three years of full time study. • Graduates are eligible to sit the Nursing Council of New Zealand state final exam to become a registered nurse. • All programmes are based on the education standards set by Nursing Council of New Zealand. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • All teaching staff are registered nurses. • All students have clinical learning experiences across primary health care, mental health, medical/surgical and continuing care settings. • We utilise a variety of teaching processes, which focus on discovery learning and active participation in workshops, lectures, tutorials and online activities. • In 2013 new state-of-the-art simulated clinical learning environments opened for our nursing and paramedic students. These simulation suites will give students access to the latest technology. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Faculty of Health has an excellent reputation for offering a friendly and supportive learning environment. • Whitireia seeks to develop nurses who are respectful of diversity and concerned with relationship centred caring, social justice and responsibility. • All programmes are underpinned by Faculty of Health philosophy that acknowledges foundational principles linked to te Tiriti of Waitangi. • Whitireia offer a range of student support services. • All applicants are interviewed.
------	--	---	--

Unique to Bachelor of Nursing

- Integrated curriculum with a person centred approach to learning.
- Facilitated learning experiences are concept based and context based, both in the classroom and clinical learning environment.
- Key elements of the curriculum are integrated into two strands: Praxis and Professional Nursing. Cultural safety underpins all education and nursing practice.
- Peer study teams form an important part of the learning experiences of the programme

Unique to Bachelor of Nursing Māori

- Emphasis is on active participation by whānau in all areas of ākonga success in the programme.
- Ākonga walk in two worlds during their three year journey – the world of nursing and the world of Te Ao Māori (whānau, hapu, Iwi).
- Integrated kaupapa using ako Māori pedagogy to critically examine hauora.
- The programme contributes to the workforce development of Māori health.

Unique to Bachelor of Nursing Pacific

- The programme examines the question of diversity with a particular emphasis on Pacific World views.
- The programme critically examines how power relations can create a barrier to health and wellbeing.
- The programme contributes to the development of a Pacific Health workforce.
- The programme is nationally recognized for showcasing success for Pacific students.

